International Prayer List

Dear Prayer Healing Friends,

We are continuing with the fourth installment of The Story of Edgar Cayce. After a case of unexplained laryngitis, Edgar Cayce underwent hypnotherapy and revealed the cause and cure. This first reading and its success led to another for Al Layne, his first "conductor" or person who made the suggestion to begin, and another for a six year old girl, Aimee Dietrich. We rejoin the story as he struggles with what to do with his newly discovered gift.

Thank you for being a part of this joyful service!

In Love and Light,

THE STORY OF EDGAR CAYCE: Kevin J. Todeschi

Cayce was truly happy that he had been able to help, but still he wanted only to live a normal life. However, Layne's enthusiasm, along with the enthusiasm of Cayce's own father and people like Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich, made it all the more difficult to leave the "psychic business" behind. Cayce continued giving readings without charge, while Layne conducted. It was soon discovered that Cayce needed only the name and location of an individual to be able to give a reading, diagnose the person's condition, and outline a regimen of treatment. The readings puzzled him; many times he did not even understand what he had said after he had awakened and Layne showed him what had been written down. Edgar agreed to continue, however, if somehow his unusual gift could be helpful to people.

In addition to his job and his work with the readings, Edgar decided the time had come to get married. On June 17, 1903, after an engagement of more than six years, Gertrude Evans and Edgar Cayce finally became husband and wife. They made a home together in Bowling Green, Kentucky. Although still somewhat uncomfortable with the readings, Edgar found life fulfilling. He had a loving wife, a home, a Sunday school class at the local church, and a good job. A year later, he formed his own photography partnership and was able to open a studio.

Eventually, Layne decided to become a fully accredited osteopath. The number of patients coming to him had continued to increase as he and Cayce had become well known. To continue his studies, Layne left Hopkinsville and entered the Southern School of Osteopathy. But Cayce's belief that Layne's departure meant that the readings might be put to rest for a time was short-lived.

AS HELP IS RECEIVED, REMEMBER TO THANK GOD, THE GIVER OF ALL GOOD AND PERFECT GIFTS.

The Edgar Cayce readings emphasize the importance that those who are seeking help and healing through prayer actively participate in the prayer effort—praying for themselves and others on the list—creating a cooperative prayer effort. In the giving comes the receiving.

Edgar spent most of his time working as a photographer. The studio was prosperous. Unfortunately, disaster occurred when a studio fire destroyed a large collection of prints and reproductions that Cayce had borrowed on consignment. Suddenly, he was deeply in debt. Nine months later, a second fire destroyed the studio. Edgar stayed in Bowling Green to pay off his debts. Gertrude returned to Hopkinsville with Hugh Lynn, their son, who was born on March 16, 1907. Eventually, Edgar looked for work in Alabama, where photographers were scarce.

During one of Edgar's return visits to Hopkinsville, Leslie Cayce introduced his son to Dr. Wesley Ketchum, a homeopath who had just moved to town. Dr. Ketchum had heard of Cayce through some of Layne's former patients and had decided to get a reading for himself. Unbeknownst to Cayce, Ketchum had recently diagnosed himself as having early problems with appendicitis. The doctor wanted to see if Cayce could pick up on the problem. However, while asleep, Cayce gave an entirely different diagnosis and outlined a simple treatment. In order to humor the young man, Dr. Ketchum went to another doctor for a third opinion and was surprised to discover that Cayce's diagnosis had been correct!
