Prayer and Meditation Services

A.R.E./Glad Helpers' International Prayer List

Dear Prayer Healing Friends,

Many of the 33 Glad Helpers met recently, joined by German, Albanian, and Finnish members, to pray with and for you.

Your heartfelt prayers from around the world, more than 3,000 pray-ers strong!—inspire and strengthen this Work. You are “dispensing the ideal [in] love and service to others” (281-1)

Gratefully,

Judith Stevens

SPIRITUAL HEALING WITH A LITTLE COMMON SENSE

Judith Stevens

When I came to work at A.R.E. in 1968, it was my good fortune to meet then-Prayer Group Secretary, Ruth LeNoir, who lived on the third floor of the original hospital building.

Ruth lived by prayer. It was as natural to her as breathing. She had every confidence that her prayers would be answered, and they were!

She told of her young daughter, Jeanne, angry and upset one evening. Ruth quietly began to pray for her from across the room, and as Ruth told it, Jeanne somehow “sweetened up.”

Ruth's friend, Olive Landers, editor of The A.R.E. News, also lived in the building. Early one weekend when they were alone, a disturbed young woman, off her medication, tried unsuccessfully to drown herself in the Atlantic Ocean, and that failing, broke a window pane and let herself into the hospital building.

She tried all the locked office doors, and finding Olive's apartment unlocked, entered. Olive awoke to water in her face as a strange wet young woman leaned over her, commanding, “This is my house. Get out!”

Patting the chair next to her bed, Olive said, “Sit down, dear, and tell me about it.” The young woman

AS HELP IS RECEIVED, REMEMBER TO THANK GOD, THE GIVER OF ALL GOOD AND PERFECT GIFTS.

The Edgar Cayce readings emphasize the importance that those who are seeking help and healing through prayer actively participate in the prayer effort—praying for themselves and others on the list—creating a cooperative prayer effort. In the giving comes the receiving.

September 2021 Affirmation

“ . . . Thine aid to many may bring joy to many. Be joyous. Be happy, in the service thou mayest render.”
Edgar Cayce reading 281-19

poured out her heart. Ruth, having heard breaking glass, materialized in the doorway. She had already determined the break-in and now had the culprit in sight. “Come with me,” she told the girl, handing her a dustpan and broom and leading her downstairs. “You have to clean up your mess.” The young woman meekly complied. Hugh Lynn Cayce soon arrived and obtained medical help for the girl. This is how two ninety-year-old women who believed in the power of prayer, gently administered justice, tempered with love.

During the 1960s when young people visited A.R.E. in large numbers, searching for God, sleeping on the beach and in A.R.E.'s Meditation Garden, Ruth was in her apartment, washing dishes, when she saw an angel at the window. This was not unusual, as Ruth frequently saw angels. What was unusual was that this angel scratched on the screen at her window. When she investigated, an angelic looking long-haired young man had climbed the fire escape ladder to the third floor to gain her attention. He needed a place to spend the night. Ruth met him on the rear porch with bedding and helped him make a sleeping pallet. The next morning, she found the sheets, neatly folded, and her angel gone.

Such was the caliber of this Prayer Group member about whom Mr. Cayce said, “. . . Put into activity that thou knowest to do, being guided by the love, that protection, that comes with knowing that you KNOW that Christ abides in thee.” And when she asked, “Have I had the experience of speaking with Him?” was told, “Thou knowest.” (281-19)
